

Klove is a important part of my families lives. It provides music and talk that I am comfortable sharing with my whole family. I do not have to quickly change the channel when songs that have inappropriate language for my children or commericals that are not appropriate (sexual disorders etc). Klove has also provide the community with a great way for non for profit groups to afford to get the word out about local events. Prior to KLOVE advertisements for non for profits was extremely difficult. KLOVE calendar of events is an awesome way to hear what is going on during the week. KLOVE is in the publics interest because it is providing a service that no one else is doing in our community - Non commerical Christian Music and G - rated morning announcers - and news stories that include positive and encouraging stories along with the unfortunate news of the day. No one else provides this and I am willing to be a supporter both financially and emotionally because I feel more people really need this.
